impakt Advisors is a brand new (2018) Data Analytics consultancy that helps clients (including Fortune 500 companies and high growth startups) jumpstart their analytics. impakt Advisors will guide you in making critical, data driven business decisions.
They excel at helping you use data to be more profitable.
They have created $160mm in impact through analytics implementations for executives at firms including TD Ameritrade, Bridgestone Firestone, multiple $1B+ retailers and high growth startups such as Public Goods and Indigo AG.
They do this by bridging the gap between the business and technical worlds.They are highly skilled in understanding stakeholder needs and translating those into clear requirements for technical teams while ensuring the highest standards.
They operate using an Agile methodology–they work quickly, communicate often, and deliver the work on time. They're always available for questions and suggestions, and we always work to understand your business needs and build a product with those goals in mind.
They are able to solve those complex business needs through building and leading teams that consistently deliver automated, scalable solutions that perform beyond expectations.
